Superintendent Denies Published
Reports—Conductors Resented
Implications in Order.

Arthur B. Baker, motorman, and G. J. S. Farr, the latter a civil engineer, who led the protest of the employees of the Great Falls and Old Dominion Railway Company, against the notice posted by the management prohibiting conductors from purchasing food or tobacco for motormen, were discharged by the company today.

Following the discharge of the two men W. E. Phillips, supervising inspector of the railway, took down the notice which caused the trouble. "There has been no legitimate protest against any order issued by this company," declared Superintendent Theodore J. King today, when seen regarding a published report that employees of that company were about to appoint a committee to call upon President John R. McLean and ask to have a certain order withdrawn.

"This report emanated from employees who were discharged for good and sufficient reasons," added Superintendent King. "They have been hanging around the office ever since in uniform, and perhaps have imposed upon some persons because of the fact that, as they own their own clothes, they cannot be prevented from wearing them. The order I issued did not use the word 'caught,' and the published copy of it was otherwise garbled. The order did read this way:

Copy of Order.
"It has come to the attention of the management that conductors have been buying tobacco, food and drinks for their motormen. Hereafter, any conductor or motorman who furnishes any of the above articles to each other will be dismissed, as no honest employee can afford to furnish such articles to those employed with him."

"A discharged employee made a copy of this order and took it to a friend. In my office this morning, before witnesses, he declared that he had never been treated better in his life than when in the employ of this company."

At the offices of the president of the road, and of William F. Hart, his representative in Washington, it was learned that no delegation of employees had called there today.

Conductors "Sore."
It was also learned that some of the conductors do not relish the implication that they must be dishonest, if they favor their motormen. One of them said that sometimes when and the motorman are obliged to run the car during meal time without being able to get away, he gets his coworker a sandwich and a cup of coffee. He fails to see how he must be dishonest if he does this with the motorman's money.

Superintendent King says that the company's orders are open to the public. He exhibited a copy of the order, showing that great precautions are being taken for the safety of the public.

Barbara Pope, Fifty, Hangs Self to a Tree in "Lovers' Lane."

Declaring in a note left for the Coroner that she had not slept since January, Barbara Pope, a negroess, fifty years old, of 2900 O street northwest, was found hanging to a tree in Lovers' Lane, Massachusetts avenue extended, by police of the Seventh precinct yesterday. The Coroner issued a certificate of death by suicide.

The aged woman probably hanged herself Saturday night. She was found by Augustus Stewart, a painter, living in Georgetown. A three-page note to the Coroner was found upon her dress.

40,000 Men in Line
In New York Parade

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Forty thousand persons marched in the Labor Day parade today. The demonstration is declared by labor leaders to be the biggest that ever was held in New York.

Crowds lined both sides of Fifth avenue, down which the parade passed, and cheered the marchers. The parade started at Fifty-ninth street and was disbanded at Washington Square. Arnold B. McKay, former president of the Central Federated Union, headed the marchers, who were reviewed by Mayor Hadd, English labor leader in Parliament.

The parade was in eight divisions, including fifty-six organizations, representing nearly every class of organized labor.

NEGRO SENTENCED FOR LIQUOR SELLING

William Snowden, colored, will owe his temporary retirement from society to a marked quarter and a half pint of whiskey.

William conducts a shoe shining establishment in the neighborhood of Ninth and M streets northwest. Yesterday, according to the testimony furnished Judge Mulvany in the Police Court today, by Policemen Hendricks, he sold a half pint of whiskey for 25 cents. The money, which was marked by the policeman, was found in his possession at the station house. William denied the evidence, but could give no satisfactory explanation, and was fined $80, with the alternative of spending the next six months in the workhouse.

Florence Roberts Co-respondent In the Bergen Divorce Suit

MISS FLORENCE ROBERTS,
The Actress Who Is Mixed up in Divorce Scandal.

Makes Indignant Denial of Any Connection With Case.
Defendant in Case Is Washington Man.

Florence Roberts, an actress known almost exclusively in the Far West until she appeared in New York in "The Strength of the Weak," has been named co-respondent in divorce proceedings brought against Thurlow Bergen, an actor, by his wife, Mrs. Clara Beatrice Farquhar Bergen, Thurlow Bergen is a Washington man, although he has not lived here since he adopted a stage career some years ago. Members of his family still make their home in Washington.

Actress Indignant.
Miss Roberts is indignant that her name should have been dragged into the Bergen divorce papers, and declares there is positively no basis for the charge that she has had any part in the marital troubles of the Bergens. Thurlow Bergen was her leading man, but the actress declares he was no more to her than any member of her company. The actress was vehement in her denial of the charge.

"This is the first I have heard of the case for months," she said. "I knew Mrs. Bergen was bringing a suit, although I never saw her, and a long time ago I heard that my name was mentioned in the preliminary papers. I immediately got my Boston attorney to interview her lawyers, with the result that my name was stricken out, and the lawyers representing Mr. Bergen's wife apologized profusely. It is most shameful and unjust that they now place my name in the case again."

Killed Georgia Cayvan.
"It was just this sort of thing that killed poor Georgia Cayvan, and that has placed Julia Marlowe in a sick bed. It should not be permitted. Of course I knew Mr. Bergen, and very frequently he accompanied me and my maid to and from theaters where we were playing, but that was all."

"I shall certainly demand a retraction at once."

Mrs. Bergen was the daughter of one of the most exclusive Back Bay families. She married the actor in 1899, and for seven years traveled with him all over the country.

Representative John Wesley Gaines, of Tennessee, who arrived in Washington today, declared himself extremely well satisfied over the prospects for Bryan's election. Mr. Gaines came here from Tennessee, but in recent weeks he has been in Colorado, Kansas, and Oklahoma.

"While in the West," said Mr. Gaines, "I talked with a large number of voters. I was amazed at the number of Republicans who told me they intended to vote for Bryan. I found they would support Bryan on two propositions, Government guarantee of bank deposits and the labor question. The guarantee of deposits is the basis of the support of Bryan among Republicans, so far as I talked with them, and frequently this is coupled with the fact that Bryan is looked on as the sincere friend of labor."

Has Labor Vote.
Mr. Gaines believes there is no question that Bryan is going to get a bulk of the labor vote. He told of riding on a train from Kansas City to Oklahoma City. "I talked with the trainmen," he said, "and found that from the engineer to the flagman they all intended to vote for Bryan. The conductor told me that the railroad employees generally were for Bryan."

According to Mr. Gaines, the proposition for the Government guarantee of deposits is sweeping the country like wildfire and Taft and the Republican leaders are on the wrong end of the proposition.

Discussing the situation in different States, Mr. Gaines said: "Kansas will be for Bryan. He has a good show of carrying the State on this proposition for guarantee of deposits as the situation stands now. He will stand an increasingly good show as the time for election approaches. Of course, there is no question about Oklahoma. Missouri is essentially a Bryan State and he will carry it by a large majority. I talked with a number of people in Colorado who said to me: 'We are all for Bryan now here.'"

Kentucky in Line.
Bryan will carry Kentucky by a large majority. Tennessee will be Democratic without doubt in my opinion. The Republicans have two sets of electors nominated and two candidates for governor and I do not believe they will get together."

On the whole, Mr. Gaines believes Bryan's prospects for election are good and growing better.

Mr. Gaines will participate actively in the campaign from the time he returns to work for the Congressional Committee here to some extent and will probably spend some time about the Chicago headquarters.

THRIFTY.
"My wife gets a new wrapper nearly every day."

"Rather extravagant, is it not?"

"No, I don't think so; she needs the soap about the house and then she trades the wrappers off for near-by tea-spoons after awhile."—Exchange.

WAKED UP.
"Jinx married a perfect dream."

"That accounts for it."

"For what?"

"At the party last night he said a man was a fool to believe in dreams."—Exchange.

CHILDREN SWEETEN LEPER EARLY

Calvary Baptist Sunday School Sends $60 to the Times Funds.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH ALSO CONTRIBUTES

Hearts of Little Ones Touched by the Sad Plight of Baby Early.

Carefully guarded banks were broken open, and pennies, nickels, and dimes, saved to buy toys and candy, were brought to Sunday school by thousands of Washington children yesterday, and put into collections for the John Early fund.

At the Calvary Baptist Church, from the youngest baby two years of age to the teachers, every one contributed to the fund, and this morning two checks, amounting to $20, one of the largest contributions yet received, were added to the total, bringing it to more than $60. The Christian Church Sunday School, a considerably smaller organization, showed the same spirit, and $7.50 was contributed by the children.

Congratulates The Times.
In a letter, inclosing the checks, Mrs. Elizabeth Hoeke, head of the kindergarten department of the Calvary Sunday School, says:

"I congratulate The Times on its humane efforts in the Early Fund. As I looked at the photographs of Mrs. Early and her baby, published in The Times, it touched a very tender chord in my heart, and at once I told my little pupils the story of the baby and its parents. I said 'Let us help the baby. Next Sunday we'll take an offering.' And here it is, $25. As a patron of The Times, I admire its spirit of helpfulness."

"The children listened with much interest and sympathy to the story of baby Early's life. They already have learned that 'the Lord giveth a cheerful giver.' During the past week many little savings banks have been opened for this appeal. This is a precious offering sent in Jesus' name from many little ones whose ages range from two to six years. It was a joy to see the response in the hearts of such young children."

"MRS. ELIZABETH HOEKE, 330 C street northwest."

Lawn Party Helps.
One of the most unique means of raising money for the fund was a lawn party given by two little girls—Mary Mockabee, eleven years old, of 2401 Randall avenue, Langdon, and May Noe, thirteen years old, who lives at the corner of Mills and Randall avenues.

The lawn party was held on the lawn of little Miss Noe's home, and netted $25.

Throughout Washington, hundreds of other children are doing their best to help baby Early. The fund was started too late for most of the Sunday schools to take any action when they met a week ago, but many of them decided yesterday to do their share to help the leper and make the burden lighter for his faithful wife and baby by taking a collection next Sunday.

The children seem to have led all along in the measure of their work for the stricken family.

Leper Early Will Not Go To Tarheel State

That the State of North Carolina does not feel bound to accept John Early, the leper, now in charge of the District, on the theory that the Federal Government and not a sovereign State should assume the responsibility of his care, is the official opinion of the attorney general of North Carolina, transmitted to Dr. H. C. McLean, acting health officer, today.

North Carolina's official reply to the request of the District authorities that the State should assume charge of Early, who is a native of the Tar Heel State, holds that the Federal Government has no right to evade the responsibility of the leper, who is claimed, more as the matter provided by the army service. Dr. McLean today pronounced this argument of North Carolina as "a general dodge."

The District and not the Federal Government, now has the care and expense of maintaining the leper.

Federal Government has done nothing but grant the leper a pension," said Dr. McLean, "and it is up to the Health Department here to quarantine and maintain him under the law returned to North Carolina. The matter will be pushed further despite the decision of attorney general of North Carolina."

Just what steps will be taken by the District authorities cannot be foretold, but the return of Health Officer Woodward and will be the subject of a conference between the Health Department officials and the Commissioners.

To Get Check Tomorrow.
The pension voucher, which Early by an ingenious arrangement was able to sign on Saturday without touching the paper, will be returned to the Pension Bureau by Health Department officials tomorrow. The issuance of the actual check for $163.20 back pension will follow as soon as this is done.

The check then will be carried out to Early, probably tomorrow afternoon, and he will endorse the paper by means of a slit in another piece of paper laid above it, thus obviating the necessity of touching the check or of subjecting the pension authorities to any danger of infection.

The check for Early's back pension would have gone to him today, had it not been Labor Day, the holiday taken by both the Health Department and the Pension Bureau, preventing a transfer of the papers.

ANTI-SUICIDE LEADER
TRIES TO END HIS LIFE

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 7.—As a result of mental suasion, physicians say, Brig. Gen. Scott Girard, head of the State Anti-Suicide Bureau of the Volunteers of America, tried to kill himself Saturday night by swallowing fifty strychnine pellets, which had been taken from the man disabled from suicide during the day, and by turning on the gas after closing all openings in the room. Doctors have little hope for his recovery.

MODERN METHODS.
"I got a postal from a candidate today," said the first farmer.

"So what effect?" inquired the second farmer.

"Asked me to consider myself slapped on the back and my baby kissed. Seems he's conducting a card index campaign."

Sunday School Students Assist In Swelling the Early Fund

Hundreds of children in the Sunday schools of Washington churches gave their share yesterday to aid the wife and baby of John Early, the leper, who are face to face with such a cheerless future. From one Sunday school alone came $60 to swell the fund. Other churches sent in word that collections had been taken up and will be turned in later.

The fund passed the $800 mark today. One hundred and forty dollars of this has been turned over to Mrs. Early, and with it she rented and furnished in simple style the house on the outskirts of Washington, where she will be within almost a stone's throw of her husband's lonely abode on the shore of the Eastern Branch.

ABANDONED BABY GETS GOOD HOME

Alexandria Woman Will Adopt Child Left in Her Care.

Although abandoned by his mother, the baby boy who was left with Mrs. William Wade, of Columbus and Wolfe streets, Alexandria, has found a comfortable home. He will be adopted by Mrs. Wade, unless the mother should return to claim him.

The tot, with clinging fingers and happy smiles, appealed to the motherly heart of Mrs. Wade as soon as she saw him. That was why she was willing to care for the little one while his mother went to the railway station to get her catch.

Thus the child's lot has been bettered through the seeming heartlessness of his mother. In the shelter that he has found the baby will have the things that the woman who is his mother could not give him.

The woman who asked Mrs. Wade to care for the baby for a few minutes gave the name Mary Brown. Efforts are being made to locate her.
